No friend of Ulster!

The headline on today's "BBC Northern Ireland" news site says it all!! Michelle O'Neill: Joe Biden 'will be a good friend to us'.

Biden will be no friend of Ulster. Of that we can be sure. O'Neill's assertion is proof enough of that fact!

- This supporter of all things 'Irish Republican', who once responded to a BBC reporter's request for a quick word by retorting that he was Irish to the BBC's New York correspondent Nick Bryant. Bryant requested 'a quick word for the BBC'.

"The BBC?" Biden retorted: "I'm Irish."

The fact that such a response immediately sprang to his lips is an indication of what lies at the very surface of this man's feelings toward all things British. Smiles cannot disguise his animosity!

- Upon moving into the White House, he immediately removed the bust of Winston Churchill and replaced it with new busts instead: Latino civil rights leader Cesar Chavez, Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., Robert F. Kennedy and Rosa Parks.

One newspaper headlined an article on Cesar Chavez thus: "Joe Biden's socialist hero: Latino union fire-brand fought AGAINST illegal immigrants but brutally purged anyone who defied him (while hushing his MANY infidelities to keep up his Catholic family man image)."

Martin Luther King had a similar moral reputation.

A headline back in August 17th 2020, regarding Joe Biden may explain this eulogising of Chavez and King!

'Joe Biden stole Jill from me': Her first husband tells how she CHEATED with Democrat candidate he once considered a friend and that they have LIED about how they started dating for years

- Another of Biden's first acts has sparked outrage! He signed a divisive executive order pushing schools to include transgender athletes in girls' sports.

The Executive Order on Preventing and Combating Discrimination on the Basis of Gender Identity or Sexual Orientation was signed hours after his taking office. Many claim that the order will now make it compulsory for schools to allow transgender female students to compete in girls' sports. The order was slammed by some critics who say it will disadvantage cisgirls (those who identify their gender with their birth sex); they accused Biden of 'erasing women' and imposing 'a new glass ceiling'

But many LGBT rights activists hailed the executive order, arguing that Biden is making good on his promise to create a more unified and inclusive country.

Speaking to Nick Robinson's 'Political Thinking', Michelle O'Neill said Joe Biden often emphasised his links to Ireland and shared Sinn Féin's view of Brexit. She went on to say: "Mr Biden had described himself as Irish", adding "you can see all of his public contributions involve some element of presenting his Irishness and I think he'll be a good friend to us in the time ahead".

Biden is the typical USA citizen of Irish extraction - more Irish and more anti-British than anyone born in Ireland! Such entertain views of Ireland and the IRA that is pure 'Disneyland Fairytale', 'Leprechaun Land' stuff!

There is an ignoring of the truth of the malevolent character of the IRA 'heroes' they so much laud and the terrorism they engaged in.

We recently set forth the truth concerning the 'arch hero' Martin McGuinness in this article.

It would do Biden and others of his ilk good to have a read!
